

CREATIVE COAST CONSTRUCTION

Connecting with their client's vision and building exceptional homes.

Since a home is the largest investment most people make in their lifetime, it's important to select a construction company with a solid reputation to help guide them on how their vision for that dream home, can become a reality.

John and Kathy Cochrane were introduced to Creative Coast Construction when they were shopping for a company to install hardwood floors in their newly acquired home. "We contacted a few of the larger companies," said John, "but they were slow to return our calls. A friend suggested we contact Creative Coast Construction. Jonathan returned our call within five minutes."

Creative Coast Construction – Custom Home Project

For Jonathan Trudo, growing up in the building industry taught him a great deal about the detailed process of making a client's dream come true.

At a very young age, Jonathan worked as a helper alongside his father in his contracting business in Vermont. When Jonathan was nineteen, his family moved to Maine and he joined his father's construction company. With a desire to learn more about the industry, he put himself through college and earned a degree in Business and Building Construction. He dreamed of someday owning his own company and shared that with his Uncle Tom. They spoke about how he was inspired when he worked in the family business and why he put in endless hours to ensure quality work. He understood that being an entrepreneur means you have to be a risk taker if you want to achieve your dreams. His uncle came up with the perfect name for Jonathan's future business; Creative Coast Construction, a company Jonathan launched in 2012.

"It was obvious to us Jonathan is devoted to an industry he knows very well."

Client - John Cochrane

John and Kathy recall very well the first time they met Jonathan. "Jonathan came out to the house himself to give us an estimate for hardwood floors. He looked at one of our walls and told us it was crooked. Then he asked me where the crawl space was. I watched as the owner of Creative Coast Construction went down into a crawl space I would never want to go into. I was very impressed," said Cochrane.

For the Cochranes, what began as a sincere appreciation for common courtesy; a quick return phone call grew into a genuine trust in Jonathan's capability as a builder. "It was obvious to us Jonathan is devoted to an industry he knows very well," John added.

Creative Coast Construction's team of skilled professionals manages all aspects of home renovations or new custom homes. When Jane Garvey and her husband decided to build their second home, there was no question; they called Jonathan. "In addition to his work ethic, Jonathan has so many qualities and is mindful of a budget. And after your house is built, he checks in with you to ensure everything is satisfactory," said Jane. "That's why Jonathan has built three homes for my sister and is now building my nephew's home. He is able to work through any unforeseen challenge with a positive attitude."

Kathy & John Cochrane

"In addition to his work ethic, Jonathan has so many qualities and is mindful of a budget."

Client – Jane Garvey

collaborative member of the design team. On average, his company builds six homes per year and has helped hundreds of people with remodeling projects. Creative Coast Construction's work is renowned for some of the most prestigious custom-built homes along Maine's picturesque coastline.

Kathy Cochrane appreciated how organized Jonathan was. "He was on top of all permits," and his familiarity of building codes is remarkable. He noticed our windows did not meet the egress code standards. My husband and I are grateful for his expertise,"

Jonathan began his company after twenty-five years in the industry. He built a solid reputation of being an advocate for the homeowner as well as an integral and

"Because I trusted Jonathan's judgment, we replaced, expanded and redesigned." John noted. "Our family home is the center of our life. It's a passion for Jonathan to create the perfect environment for your family to grow, prosper and build cherished memories."

Creative Coast Construction
38 Goose Rock Road, Kennebunkport, ME 04046
creativecoastconstruction@gmail.com +1 207 205-4422